

Memo for AD/CS, 16 Jan 64, Secret
[redacted] Ch/Prod Div, OCS

POLICY on computer usage by other Govt Agencies

A draft policy paper "Use of CIA Computers by Other Government Organizations" circulated in January 1964, [redacted] memo of 16 Jan 64.

First principle invoked was that external services would not be provided unless our funds are reimbursed for services performed. [redacted] felt better grounds for refusal to serve other Govt agencies wld be security rqmts, priorities, and present internal workloads, etc.

Aside from money:

imposes greater load on present numbers of operators excess time on machines detracts from basic mission: to provide timely service on a priority basis to CIA intelligence rqmts security level of CIA processing in some instances and [redacted] particularly complicates use of OCS equipmt by outsiders.

requests so far from outside agencies has not been of an emergency or high priority /nature; could be handled by other government computer centers.
